Report on the Audit of Financial Statements

I have audited the financial statements of MS. CHARISSE JOYCE R. HINAGPIS which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2024 and 2023 the statements of income, for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In my opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of MS. CHARISSE JOYCE R. HINAGPIS as at December 31, 2024 and 2023 and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS) for Small and Medium-sized Entities.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSA). My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statement section of our report. I am independent of the entity in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professionals Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that the relevant to my audit of the financial statements in the Philippines, the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippine (Philippine Code of Ethics), and I have fulfilled my other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, my responsibility is to read other information.

In doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRS for SMEs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsibilities for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSA will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considering material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSA, I exercise professional's judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. I also:

- Identify and assesses the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to the fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, international omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during our audit.

I also provide those charged with governance with a statement that i have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, I determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. I describe these matters in my auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, I determine that a matter should not be communicated in my report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Blk. 7 Lot 3, L.A. Village, Putho-Tuntungin 4030.
Los Baños, Laguna

Notes to Financial Statements – December 31, 2024

Note 1 – General Information and Nature of Operations

1.1 Business Profile

LCMEDELA Pharmaceutical Trading is a sole proprietor owned and managed by Ms. Charisse Joyce R. Hinagpis with office address at Blk 7 Lot 3, L.A. Village, Bgy. Putho-Tuntungin, Los Baños, Laguna.

It is registered with the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) and the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) on April 26, 2023, through owner's issued Tax Identification No. 285-163-156-00000. The primary purpose of the business is retail of pharmaceutical, medical, cosmetics, toilet articles and other related goods.

Note 2 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The significant policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are enumerated below. These policies are consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

2.1 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

2.1.1 Statement of Compliance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards for Small Entities (PFRS SEs)

The financial statements of the business have been prepared in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards for Small Entities (PFRS for SEs). The financial statements have been prepared using the measurement bases specified by PFRS for SEs for each type of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The measurement bases are fully described in the accounting policies that follow.

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with the PFRS for SEs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the business operations accounting policies.

2.1.2 Functional and Preparation Currency

These financial statements are presented in Philippine pesos, the proprietor's functional and presentation currency, and all values represent absolute amounts except when otherwise indicated.

2.1.3 Use of Judgment and Estimates

The preparation of business financial statements requires the owner to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes.

Judgments are made by the owner in the development, selection and disclosure of significant accounting policies and estimates and application of these policies and estimates.

MAR 13 2025

CamScanner

The estimates and assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. These are based on the owner's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of reporting date. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Note 3 – Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The significant policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are enumerated below. These policies are consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

3.1 Cash

Comprised of bank deposits and petty cash funds used in the operations. These are measured at face value. Bank deposits earn interest based on rates and period specified by the bank.

3.2 Accounts Receivables

Represent the amounts of sales on accounts not yet collected as of date of financial statements preparation.

3.3 Property and Equipment

Comprise the costs of Office furniture, transportation and communication equipment used in the operations. These are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed using straight line method which is cost over estimated useful life with no salvage value as follows:

Office Furniture & Equipment	5 years
Transportation Equipment	5 years
Communication Equipment	5 years

The initial cost of fixed assets consists of its purchase price, including direct attributable costs in bringing the assets to its useful working condition and location as intended for its use. Minor repair and maintenance costs incurred on this equipment, if any, are charged to expenses at the time the cost is incurred. In situations where it can be demonstrated that the major repairs have improved the condition of the asset beyond the original assessed standard value of performance, the expenditures are capitalized as additional cost of fixed asserts.

3.4 Current Liabilities

These are obligations incurred in the operations of which their payments have not yet been made at the cut-off date when financial statements are prepared. These obligations are current and stated at face value, such as those payable to government institutions and obligations incurred in the trading business.

3.5 Long Term Liabilities

Refers to obligations incurred and used in the operations, such as bank loans secured and payable for a long period of time. These include amounts of principal value which are not due when the financial statements are prepared. Interest expenses due are recognized and adjusted and recognized as current liability accounts.

3.6 Personal Capital

Refer to the amount of capital invested in the business and added/deducted with the net amount of net income/loss realized as of the financial statement date. Further, this is also added/deducted with the amounts of additional investments and personal withdrawal made as of date of the financial statements.

CamScanner

3.7 Income

Income is recognized to appoint that it is earned during the period of financial statement preparation, and its economic value is attributable to the sales made and other revenues relative to the business operations, such as interest income and other related revenues attributable operations.

3.8 Operation & Administrative Expenses

Expenditures are recognized on the date the expenses are incurred in the trading business.

3.7.1 Purchases - these are costs incurred in the purchase of items for sale to customers. Purchases are recognized in time when items ordered are received from the suppliers.

3.7.2 Operations and Administrative Expenses – these are expenses incurred relative to personnel salaries and benefits, office and administrative expenses incurred to carry-out the trading business and other incidental expenditures necessary to sustain the business operations.

3.9 Events after the Reporting Date

The business does not have any subsequent events that require adjustments and/or disclosure in the financial statements as of December 31, 2024.

Note 4 - Significant Accounting Judgments and Estimates

The trading business financial statements prepared in accordance with PFRS for SEs require the owner to make judgments and estimates that affect amounts reported and related notes. Judgments and estimates are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations and future events to be reasonable under circumstances. Actual results may ultimately differ from these estimates.

Critical Management Judgments in Applying Accounting Policies

In the process of applying the trading business policies, the owner has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimation, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements.

The business has no material obligations (legal or constructive) that may require provision in the financial statements
